SELF-CONFIDENCE IS THE BEST COMPLEMENT TO STYLE

No matter what you wear, the way you carry it is more important than anything else. Self-confidence is the most powerful complement to style. Choosing the pieces that you think look good on you and carrying them comfortably makes you truly stylish.

Remember, style doesn't have to be rule-bound. The most important thing when creating your own style is to wear clothes that you feel good in. Because style is much more than just following a fashion trend; it is one of the best ways to express yourself.
